Executive Proclamation
Office of the Governor

Whereas, The state of South Dakota has long been concerned with the health of its citizens; and,

Whereas, Chronic lung diseases, known collectively as Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD), are the fourth leading cause of death in the United States; and,

Whereas, Chronic obstructive pulmonary disease is a term used to describe the obstruction of airflow, and costs the economy of the United States an estimated $42 billion a year; and,

Whereas, Thirteen millions Americans, 18 years and over, are estimated to have COPD, and close to 24 million U.S. adults have evidence of impaired lung function; and,

Whereas, Awareness, early detection, and treatment are crucial in the prevention or slowing of the spread of lung disease in this country; and,

Whereas, The citizens of South Dakota deserve the opportunity to grow, thrive, be healthy, be informed, and be aware of their respiratory health and the factors that affect that health:

Now, Therefore, I, M. Michael Rounds, Governor of the state of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim November 17, 2010, as
